We are very proud of you seniors, members of the class of forty-six. Your work at Scotland High School has been very commendable indeed. The best in young manhood and young womanhood is demanded of you.

The training which you received in the homes of this community and at the Scotland High School are the foundation stones upon which sound principles are built. Keep this training close to you at all times. Our best wishes will ever follow you.

The Goals of Our Teachers

It is the desire of our teachers to have their profession attain such standards of excellence that all of us may look with pride upon the entire professional membership and the quality of service rendered to our students and this community. As teachers we are striving to do our full share in promoting the attainment of such professional goals that we may enjoy a growing pride in our work and be more and more proud to be called "teachers." Our professional chain grows stronger as we link together our united efforts to attain greater efficiency and advance the educational interests of our students.

MISS DARROUGH

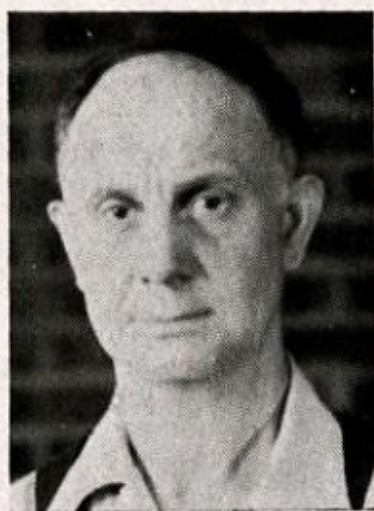

"Shorty"

Here is a tribute to a little guy with a big heart whose name among his friends is "Shorty." This little guy was the janitor of good old Scotland High. To us he was more than that; he was a real friend, ever ready and willing to perform the many tasks assigned to him and faithful to his every duty.

He served as our janitor since October 1, 1938. Due to a serious illness, he was forced to retire for a much-needed rest. We, the students and faculty, join his many other friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

"Shorty" has also served on our High School Board of Education since April, 1943. He gets his very distinguished name because of his being just five feet tall.

WILLIAM F. CRAIG

Another big, kind-hearted, jolly fellow has come into our midst. He is none other than "Bill" Craig, who has replaced the retiring janitor. To him go our best wishes.

ROSCOE HUGG

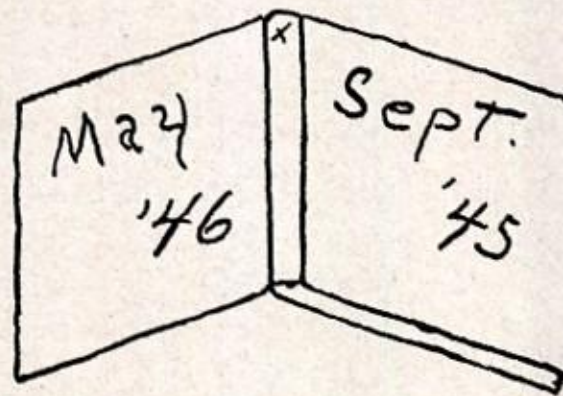

HARRY WILLIAMS

BUS DRIVERS

Roscoe Hugg, who resides eight miles south of Scotland, has driven one of our school busses for the past three years. We appreciate the splendid service he has given our school.

The new driver, Harry Williams, resides in Scotland. He was employed to replace the old driver, Ramon Richison. His service to us also is invaluable.

To Us

Seniors, seniors; we're proud of us
For finishing this high school year;
We don't like to make such a fuss
Nor do we like to shed a tear.

We hate to leave good old Scotland High
All our fun, our work, and play
But our life has really just begun,
So we must journey on our way.

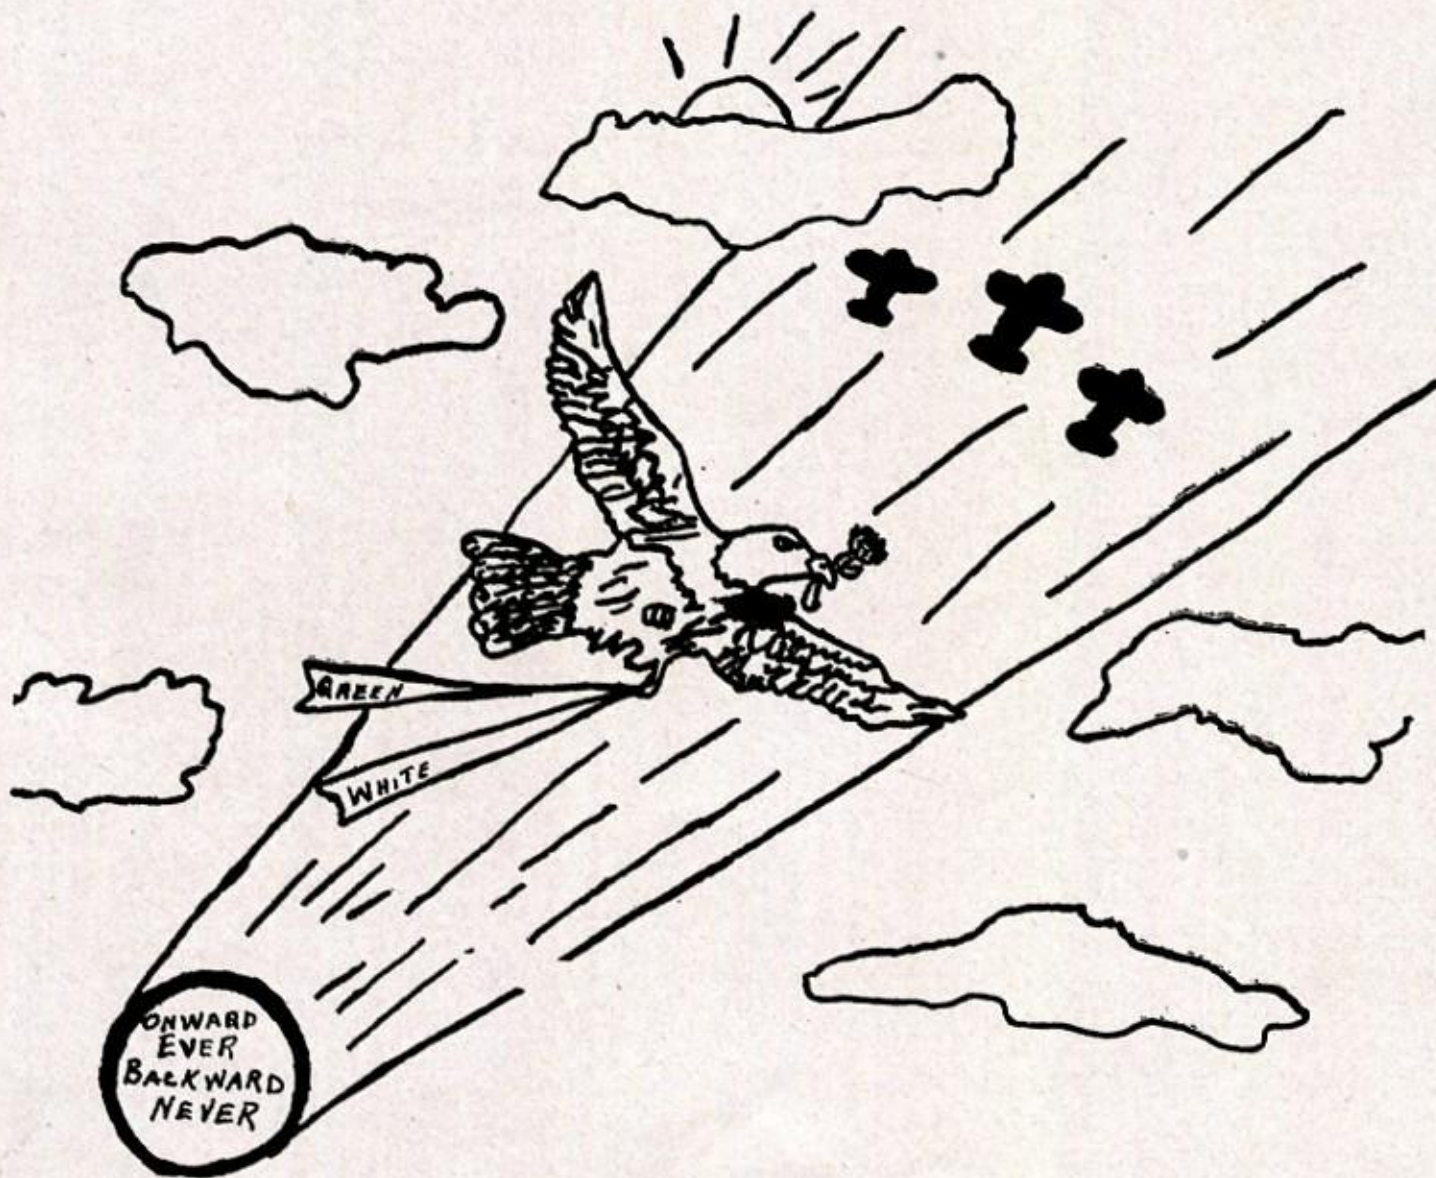

Senior Class Pledge

We, the Senior Class of Scotland Community High School, do pledge our minds to the betterment of our nation, our lives to its service and protection, and our hearts in undying love for our country.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The month of May in 1946 will find Scotland High School closing its doors to one of the most outstanding graduating classes in history. We feel certain though that we have left in our stead classes that will climb upward and reach the same heights that we have struggled so hard to obtain, that they will maintain the same noble ideals and principles that have guided us on our way.

When we entered the doors of this high school on September 1, 1942, we were just nineteen in number. Three of these students, Peggy Ann Scott, Raymond Craig, and Wanda Hensley, had attended the Grade School here. All the others came in from different parts of the district: Clem Brown and John Warmouth, Larkin school; Donald Huffaker and Norman Eslinger, Logan; Dorothy Montgomery, Edna Samford, Josie Samford, and Ida Lee Hugg, Banner school; George Dunn and William Samford, Scott school; Noel Pritchett and Robert Hess, Victor school; Paul Osborn, Riley; Willard Wimsett, Excelsior; Raymond Holler, Livingston; and Elford Watson, Hume.

Shortly after school was in session, we chose our class officers: Robert Hess, president; Peggy Scott, vice president; Raymond Holler, secretary and treasurer; Robert Hess and Noel Pritchett, student council representatives; and Mr. Winegardner, our class sponsor.

During our freshman year Kenneth York from Ridgefarm entered our class on October 12, 1942, but Norman Eslinger quit school on October 14; Paul Osborn was transferred to Logansport, Indiana on November 14; Alleve Croll entered on February 9, from Martinsville, and Irma Ingram entered April 12, from Westville; thus by the end of the year our class and Elford Watson, Hume.

In the fall of 1943 we entered our sophomore year as very happy students. We chose the following officers to represent us throughout the year: George Dunn, president; Dorothy Montgomery, vice president; Robert Hess, secretary and treasurer; Peggy Scott and Robert Hess, student council members; and Miss Comer as our class sponsor.

During this year we lost three students. John Warmouth failed to re-enter in the fall; Elford Watson was inducted into the navy on September 20; Clem Brown quit school on December 9. We gained two students, Norma Jean Henry, who came from Chrisman High School and Forrest Wyatt from Indianola on December 17.

The third year of school found us not so happy because war was on in full swing, but we accepted our responsibilities and united our efforts to make this year a success anyway. We lost four students, for during the year, Dorothy Montgomery and Norma Jean Henry failed to re-enter in the fall; Forrest Wyatt quit school on February 5, and Kenneth York withdrew on March 6. The following officers were elected throughout the year: Peggy Scott, president; Donald Huffaker, vice president; Raymond Craig, secretary and treasurer; Noel Pritchett and Robert Hess, student council representatives; and Miss Wellmeyer, sponsor. During this year we sponsored the magazine sales, helped to publish the Scotch News, gave a class play and the Junior-Senior Banquet as well as helped with other activities.

As we entered the senior year, our hearts grew light and gay for the war was ended. We plunged full force into our senior activities after having elected the following students to guide us: Raymond Craig, president; Peggy Scott, vice president; Noel Pritchett, secretary; Willard Wimsett, treasurer; Irma Ingram and Robert Hess, student council representatives; Miss Williams was designated as our sponsor. The biggest problem which confronted us was our Annual. We published the Scotch News during the first semester and gave our senior class play during the second.

Now comes the time for graduation. We give thanks to all of those teachers, parents, and friends who have helped us along the way and who have made it possible for us to attend this educational institution so that we may go on our way to successfully meet the battles of life.

WILL

We, the Class of 1946, of Scotland Community High School, being in possession of the essential factors necessary to a sound mind, do herewith make, declare, and publish our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

We, the Class of '46, will to the different classes the following:

To the freshmen we will our giggles and bright remarks provided they do not use them to excess.

To the sophomores we will our good dispositions and superior minds.

To the juniors we will our excellent cooperativeness with all of our superiors.

To the seniors we will the Memoriae and the Scotch News provided they keep them up to or surpass our standards.

ARTICLE II

We, the Class of '46, will to our teachers the following:

To Miss Darrough we will our angelic dispositions.

To Mr. Benson we will our old notes provided he doesn't show them to anyone.

To Miss Williams we will our ability to type fast and without errors.

To Mrs. McCool we will our screams and giggles.

To Miss Throckmartin we will our ability to tease and make trouble.

To Mrs. Yelton we will all of our musical knowledge and talent.

To Mr. Emmons we will our desires to become skillful.

ARTICLE III

We, the Class of '46, hereby express our individual wills:

I, Irma Ingram, will all of my nicknames to Julia Wyatt provided she doesn't tell anybody where I got them.

I, Wanda Hensley, will my ability to type to Flossie Cook provided she doesn't abuse the typewriter.

I, Donald Huffaker, will my brilliant mind to the freshmen of '46.

I, Willard Wimsett, will my ability to make long speeches to Wilma Vaught provided she doesn't overdo it.

I, Robert Hess, will all my former girl friends to David Richison provided he doesn't find them too many.

I, Ida Lee Hugg, will my blonde hair to Joan Eveland provided she doesn't dye it any other color.

I, Noel Pritchett, will Iris Craig to Bill Hunt provided he'll take as good care of her as I did.

I, William Samford, will my old shoes to Dean Bowman provided he grows into them.

I, George Dunn, will my old girl, Mary Fulton, to "Spike" Haws.

I, Raymond Holler, will my basketball ability to Hobart Dixon—the future center for S.C.H.S.

I, Peggy Scott, will my chemistry book to my brother, Jim, provided he makes better use of it than I did.

I, Raymond Craig, will my "nosiness" to Arlene Samford provided she doesn't use it too much.

I, Edna Samford, will my gold teeth to Floyd Newton provided he doesn't break or lose them.

I, Josie Samford, will my bashfulness to Eugene York provided he doesn't overdo it.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hand this twenty-fourth day of May, in the year of one-thousand nine hundred and forty-six.

Senior Class 1946

Signed, published, and declared by the above named class of '46 as and for their Last Will and Testament.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

I was walking down a busy street in a midwestern town (it doesn't matter which one) when someone slapped me on the back. I was about ready to turn around and give this guy a cursing, but when I saw who it was, I changed my mind. This gentleman turned out to be a sailor, none other than Noel Pritchett. We became engaged in conversation, and he told me that after he got out of school in 1946, he joined the Armed Forces and had liked it so much that now in 1956 he was still a member. He had worked up to a pretty high rank, Sea-wolf, first class.

We got to talking about the good times we had had in the old S.C.H.S. and where all of our classmates had wandered. It so happened that he had just received a letter from Robert Hess, another class member. Robert had told him that he had just been released from the Coast Guard. He was getting ready to enter college and was going to take up psychological principles.

It was getting close to noon so we decided to go to a nearby restaurant to get something to eat. We had just sat down at the table and the waitress, "Er-uh-well, well! Look who it is!" I said to Pritchett. Another surprise, for the waitress and owner of the restaurant was none other than Irma Ingram.

She sat down and called another waitress so that she could talk over old times with us. We asked her about her old pal, Wanda Hensley. She told us that Wanda had waited several years until Robert Davis got out of school, and after proposing to him on leap year, they were married and settled down in Chrisman.

She also informed us that Edna Samford had skipped out to Decatur after she got out of school and had roped her a husband and had two little blue-eyed boys. Josie, her "little sister," had remained around Scotland until Willard Wimsett had returned from college. She is still trying to catch Willard. Willard had gone to college to learn to be a veterinarian. He had now opened up his office near Scotland; he had become a specialist with cats and dogs.

Ida Lee Hugg had recently written Irma a letter. She had also married and had opened a grocery store in Logan. Her name isn't Hugg anymore though. It is now Henderson.

We had finished our meal by this time and decided to play the juke box. I put a nickel in the slot and was going down the list of songs when my eyes were attracted to a familiar name. Yes, it was true; the song was being sung by Peggy Scott. We learned later that she had gone to Chicago and was in the recording business.

You know things have a way of happening in spells. Well, this was one of those spells. A newspaper boy came in just then. Across the top blazed the following headlines. "New Scoring Record Made." Further reading revealed that this record was made by a Scotland basketball star, Raymond Holler, who was a member of the Illinois Five, the U. S. Champs.

It was getting pretty well along in the day. Since I had some business to transact, we parted. I went on down the street and entered the town hall. Whom should I meet but Donald Huffaker! He had just made a bid on a big contract to build a new United States post office in Scotland. I asked him if he knew anything concerning George Dunn and William Samford.

He told me that they both owned big farms south of Scotland. William had gone to college and was specializing in pure-bred Poland China hogs, while George was sticking to cattle and grain farming.

Wow, what a day of news, I thought as I went on down the street toward my home. I was just about ready to turn up the sidewalk to my house when I heard someone call "daddy." I looked around and here came five little boys running toward me—Me, Raymond Craig, and my happy little family.

Junior Class

FIRST ROW—Marilyn Parker, Marian Parker, Louise Carpenter, Helen Holley, Naomi June Fulton, and Florence Cook.

SECOND ROW—Joan Listner, William Hutson, Richard Ingram, Clarence Bowman, Barbara Scott, and Mary Elizabeth Fulton.

Junior History

Eleven jolly juniors re-entered the doors of old Scotland High in the fall of 1945. Shortly after the term began, they held a meeting and elected their class officers. Joan Listner was chosen the class president and Marilyn Parker, the vice president. Marian Parker was selected as secretary and Helen Holley, the treasurer. The student council members are Naomi June Fulton and Richard Ingram. The class sponsor is Miss Darrough. They also selected the American Beauty rose as their class flower and rose-pink and white as their class colors.

One big activity on the part of the juniors was their annual magazine sale, which was opened on September 31 and closed on October 15. The money cleared is being used to finance their activities throughout the year.

The juniors showed their dramatic ability in the presentation of their class play, Mama's Baby Boy, given on the evening of November 7.

They also shouldered their share of all other activities which were presented to them throughout the year. One of their major activities was to carry on the work of the senior class on the Scotch News for the second semester. They did their job well.

The largest event of the year is the Junior-Senior banquet which will be given on the evening of May 10 in the high school gym. A formal prom will be sponsored by the juniors in honor of the seniors.

Although the class is small, their responsibilities are great. They have shown that they are worthy of taking our places as we leave the doors of old Scotland High.

Our Juniors

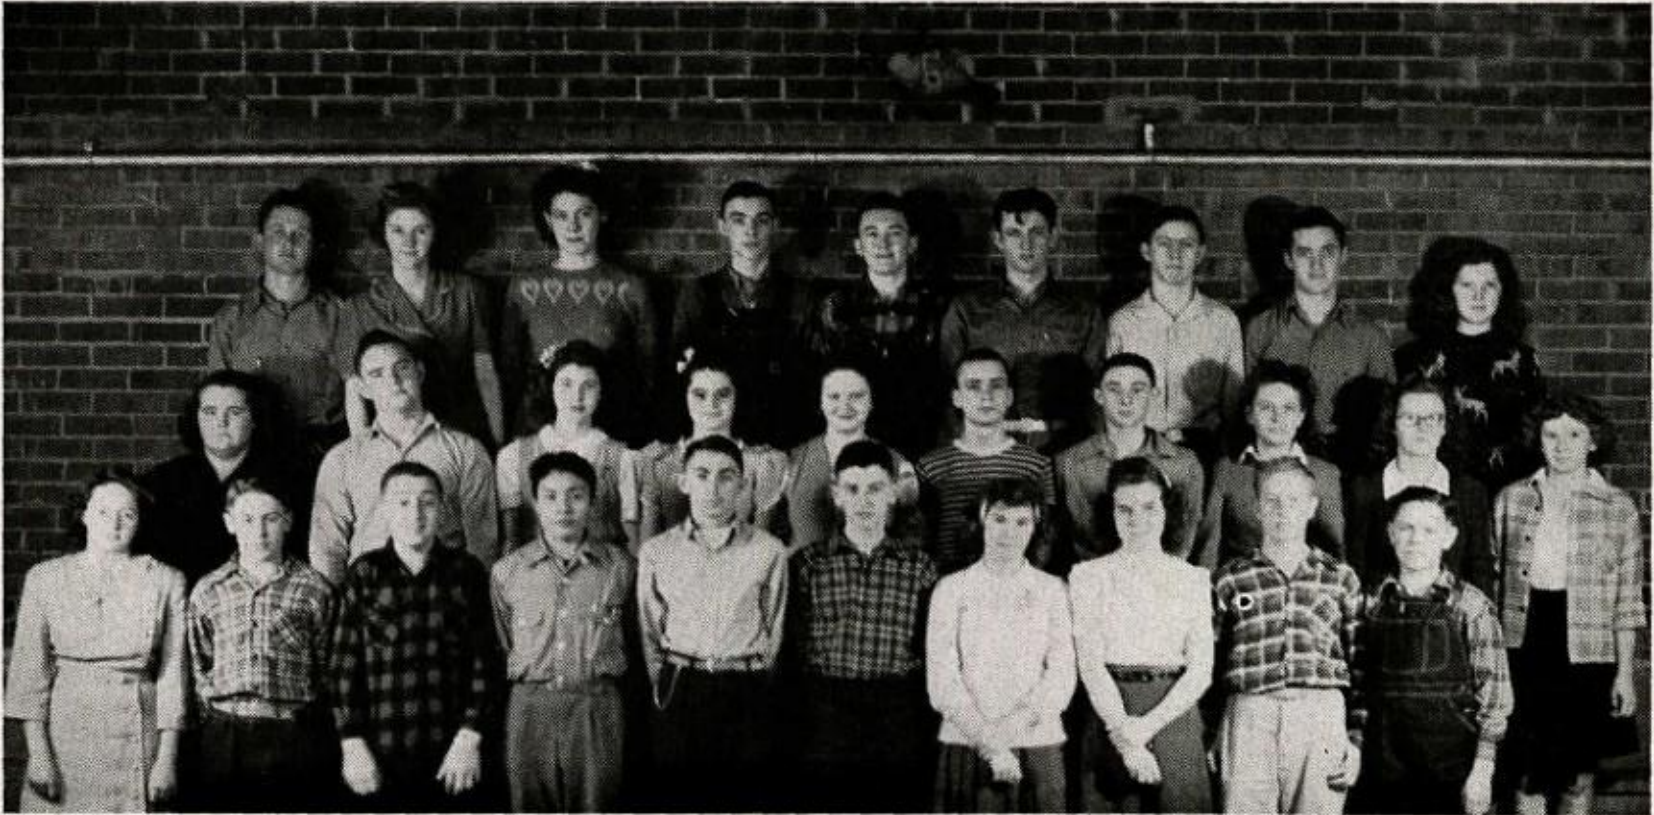

A tribute to the juniors
Is what I'll try to phrase,
Without deducting from their work
Or robbing them of praise.

Nine girls and three boys—
A very industrious dozen,
And when you come to Scotland High
At work you'll find them buzzin'.

For next year they'll be seniors,
And then they shall depart:
But the year that they were juniors
Will have its place in their heart.

Sophomore Class

FIRST ROW—Wilma Vaught, Donald Low, James Scott, Nawee Siutza, William Hunt, Neil Scott, Leila Conner, Iris Craig, Harold Porter, and Hobart Dixon.

SECOND ROW—Mary Ann Dillon, Patrick Dillon, Patty Yonce, Norma Samford, Joan Eveland, Beuford Travis, Richard Haws, Lois Claypool, Julia Wyatt, and Gleethal Scott.

THIRD ROW—Charles Eslinger, Dorothy Groves, Maxine Davis, Warren Hutson, Dale Romoser, Eugene Giordano, Charles Ingram, Eugene York, and Ruth Scott.

Sophomore History

Out of the thirty-three freshies who enrolled in our high school in the fall of 1944, thirty-two returned to us this year. This class has the distinguished honor of being the largest class in the school.

Shortly after the term began, they selected the following class officers: Dale Romoser, president; Gene Giordano, vice president; Beuford Travis, secretary; and Ruth Scott, treasurer. Mrs. McCool is the sponsor. Their student council representative is Joan Eveland.

As time progresses we, as seniors, wish the best of luck to these underclassmen and hope that all of them may see fit to graduate from our dear old Scotland High.

To Our Sophomores

Here is a tribute to the Sophomore tribe
From the Seniors of '46,
We surely wish you would cease to bribe
Your classmates with whom you mix.

We want you to grow up to be
Like everyone in this class so great,
So settle down, don't you see
And start to meditate.

Wherever we go, on land or sea,
We'll never forget the days gone by
That we spent with you in fun and glee
In the halls of good old Scotland High.

Donald Huffaker.

Freshman Class

FIRST ROW—Dean Bowman, Delores Hunt, Leo Listner, Billie Craven, and Ray Ingram.

SECOND ROW—Floyd Hess, Billie Vandivier, Mary Huffaker, David Richison, and Floyd Newton.

Not pictured: Arlene Samford and Frank Jones.

Freshman History

Eleven very alert students enrolled in our school this year as green freshies. Before long they erased their bewildered looks and settled down to good, hard study.

They organized their class so that they, too, might carry on successfully their activities throughout the year. They chose David Richison, president; Dolores Hunt, vice president; and Floyd Newton, secretary and treasurer. Miss Throckmartin was designated as their sponsor. Their student council representative is Billie Craven.

A new student, Frank Jones, entered their class in February, so the class now has an even dozen.

It is the wish of every freshman to pass out of the "greenie" stage and become a full-fledged member of the sophomore class of next year.

Freshies

Here is to the freshmen brave
Who wish we were not alive;
'They hope we'll soon be in our grave
And not a member of the "Hive".

These freshmen are a dozen strong;
'They believe they are always right,
'They will never admit they're wrong,
Because they're not so bright.

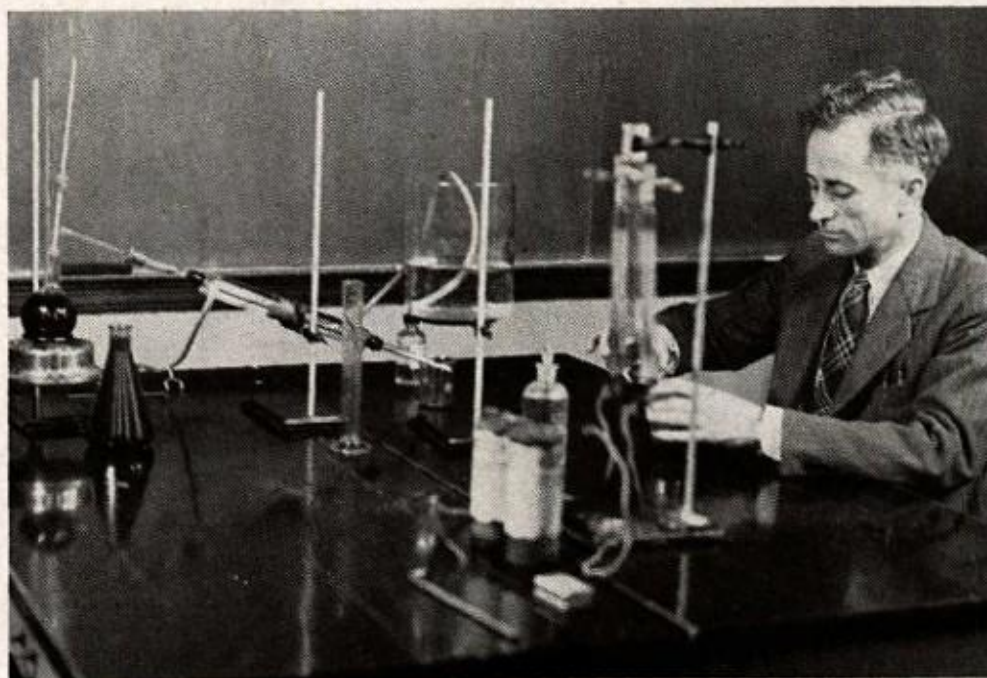

But let's look into the future,
'Three more years, let's borrow;
'The "Green" freshies of today
Will be the seniors of tomorrow.

Departments

Science

GERALD T. BENSON, Instructor

Our school offers three courses in Science—General Science, the course taking the pupils into a general field of study of all sciences; Biology, the study of living matter in all forms; and Chemistry, the science that treats of or investigates the composition of substances.

General Science and Chemistry are taught by Mr. Benson; Biology is taught by Miss Throckmartin.

Mathematics

MRS. MARY McCOOL, Instructor

Two courses in Mathematics are being offered in our high school; they are Algebra I and Plane Geometry. Algebra is a branch which represents quantities by the use of letters and other symbols instead of by numbers as in arithmetic. Geometry is the branch which treats of the properties and measurements of lines, angles, surfaces and solids. Both courses are taught by Mrs. Mary McCool.

Commerce

MISS MARY WILLIAMS, Instructor

Our school recognizes the high value placed on commercial training in the world today. In order to help meet the pressing demand for laborers in the field of business, we offer four courses which attempt to prepare our students along these lines. They are Typing I, Typing II, General Business, and Bookkeeping, all of which are taught by Miss Williams.

Home Economics

MISS ROBERTA THROCKMARTIN, Instructor

The Home Economics work is divided into three parts—Home Ec. I, II, and III. The Home Ec. II and III alternate every other year, so Home Ec. III is being taught this year. Miss Throckmartin instructs the work in this department.

The program of work is so arranged that it includes cooking, sewing, child care, home relations, home management, care of the sick, and decorations for the home. It also includes the making of budgets to adequately meet the home needs as well as many other interesting topics.

The courses are offered to all girls in the high school, for it is they who will be the Future Homemakers of America.

Social Science

Social Science is the field of work which includes courses in history, economics, sociology, political science, and education. At present we are offering in our high school three of these courses—World History to sophomores, American History to juniors, and Political Science to seniors.

The importance of the social subjects is based upon their relationship to the many problems of the present day. The histories trace the development of mankind throughout the ages, while the political science gives an extensive study of the various governments throughout the world. Special emphasis is placed upon our own national and state governments so as to show their direct relationship to each other and to all individuals within their jurisdiction.

The instruction in the fields of Social Science is given by Miss Darrough.

MISS JEANNETTE M. DARROUGH, Instructor

English

In our high school four years of English are offered. Three years of English work are required, but the fourth is optional. The work is so divided that all courses offer a combination of study in the fields of literature and English grammar. The third year is a study of American literature, while the fourth year gives a more advanced study in the field of English literature. All four years are supplemented by library reading.

All of the English classes use the Reader's Digest for the discussion of current material.

The dramatic work, the "Scotch News," the high school newspaper, and the "Memoriae" are important features of the English department.

English I and one section of English II are taught by Mrs. McCool. The other section of English II, the English III, and English IV are taught by Miss Darrough.

Library

The library in our high school has been designed primarily to serve the school. The students find it a very valuable place where they may obtain information, and the faculty uses it widely as a source of enrichment in the preparation and presentation of their class work.

The library also serves as a recreational reading center for students, teachers, parents, and friends. It has a wide variety of books, both fiction and non-fiction, and numerous types of magazines which provide good reading literature for the school and the public.

Foreign Language

The only foreign language offered in our school this year is Latin II, which is taught by Mrs. Mary McCool. In the first course the students are taught the fundamentals of Latin. In the second course they study Latin in a more advanced form.

Latin serves as the background for the English language, therefore it is invaluable to the student who enrolls for study in this work.

A major activity on the part of this group was the presentation of a Roman banquet conducted wholly in Roman style. It was the first of its kind ever to be given in our high school, so we are very grateful to Mrs. McCool who sponsored it and the Latin students who made it possible. It was very instructive and educational in that it portrayed many of the habits and customs of the real Romans.

Music

MRS. SUEMMA GRIMES YELTON, Instructor

The Music Department in our high school has a large enrollment. It consists of three groups—a well-organized band, a girls' chorus, and baton twirling. The band and chorus furnish many musical numbers for all school programs and several outside activities during the year. The baton twirling is a new type of instruction introduced into our school this year. We are quite proud of the girls who have shown their skill in handling the batons. They have made several public appearances at the high school basketball games.

Many individual music students and the chorus are participating in both the District and County Music Contests.

All of the music is supervised by Mrs. Suemma Grimes Yelton.

Agriculture

MR. EMMONS, Instructor

The work of the Agriculture Department is designed to train the young men of this high school who are interested in Agriculture to be better prepared for leadership and farming; so that they may more adequately meet the problems of the farmers of today and tomorrow.

In order that they might accomplish their purposes, field trips are conducted, milk is tested, soil tests are made, small equipment needed for projects are made, and an individual project is carried by each student. Every phase of farming carried on in this community is studied; the boys do most of their learning by doing.

The two divisions of Agriculture being taught this year are Agriculture I, which deals with soils and crops, and Agriculture III, which deals with farm management. The work of this department is under the direction of Mr. Emmons.

Ractivities

SEATED—Dale Romoser, Robert Hess, and David Richison.

SECOND ROW—Miss Williams, Irma Ingram, Raymond Craig, Joan Listner, Richard Ingram, Naomi Fulton, Joan Eveland, Billie Craven, and Mr. Benson.

Student Council

President—Robert Hess

Vice President—Dale Romoser

Secretary and Treasurer—David Richison

Faculty Advisers—Mr. Benson and Miss Williams

The Student Council is organized to contribute to the welfare of the students and to facilitate problems pertaining to all classes. It sets up high standards for the entire student body and strives to maintain them throughout the year.

The council consists of the president of each class who automatically becomes a member, one representative from both the freshman and sophomore classes, and two from both the junior and senior classes.

One of the outstanding features of the council this year was the presentation of the Christmas program. Another major activity on their part will be the sponsoring of the annual carnival which will be held late in the spring.

THE SCOTCH NEWS

The Scotch News, the school paper for over ten years, has a circulation of nearly one-hundred thirty copies. These papers are issued every three weeks to all high school and grade school students, board and faculty members, and a few boys in service. Several copies are exchanged with other schools publishing a school newspaper.

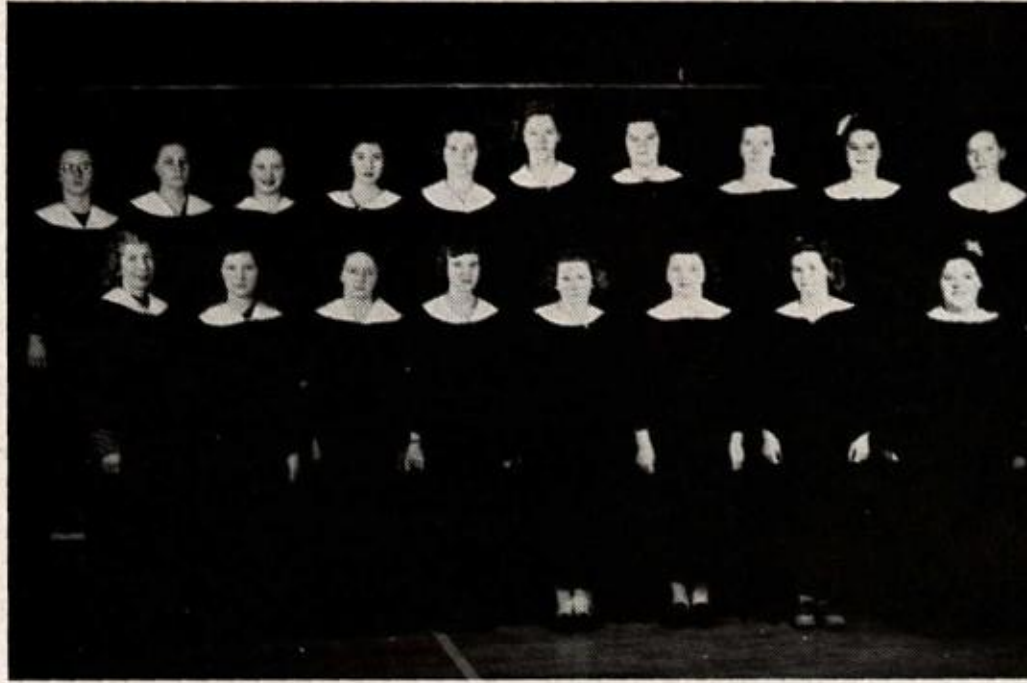

This thriving little paper is an important feature of the English department where all English work is supervised by Miss Darrough. It is used as a senior project during the first semester and is published by the juniors during the second semester. After all errors are removed from the news articles, they are taken to the commercial department, where they are typed, stenciled, and mimeographed under the direction of Miss Williams, the commercial instructor.

SECOND ROW—Julia Wyatt, Lois Claypool, Joan Eveland, Patty Yonce, Peggy Scott, Dorothy Groves, Arlene Samford, Mary Huffaker, Norma Samford, and Wanda Hensley.

The Girls' Chorus work is open to all the girls in the high school. They are studying three-part singing, first and second soprano and alto. Throughout the year, the student body and the public have been entertained by various types of numbers on special programs.

One of the outstanding programs of the year in which the girls participated was the Christmas program presented by the Student Council. The girls sang the Christmas carols which served as the background music when the birth of Christ was portrayed.

The Chorus will enter the music contests held in the spring.

High School Band

Our school is very proud of the fact that we now have a high school band. Several students who joined the group had their own instruments and had taken private lessons beforehand. The school purchased a set of drums and a tuba. During the first semester the boys made music stands for the entire group.

The work of the band has progressed nicely. They have made public appearances at some of the school functions and a few outside activities. Since this is the first year that these students have been grouped together, they will not enter the music contests in the spring, but they will try to carry on their good work so as to make even this possible within another season.

Armistice Program

One November 9 the high school and grade school held an Armistice program. Armistice was observed on the ninth because the regular day, the eleventh, fell on Sunday.

The program consisted of the Lord's Prayer, Oath of Allegiance to the flag, and short talks by students paying tribute to those who have served in the armed forces.

Mr. Benson gave us a short talk on the army, since he has served in the forces and is now honorably discharged. He tried to show how the boys in the camps were fed and trained. He also related some interesting incidents that happened while he was in uniform.

The music class added to the program with many musical numbers. At this time the service flag was rededicated. On our honor roll at the present time, we have seventy-five names. Of these boys, four have been killed in action.

Since the program this year wasn't held on the regular Armistice day, it was attended by only the high school and grade school students and a few visitors.

Daughters of the American Revolution

Each year a girl of the senior class, chosen as one who can best represent the school as their Good Citizen, is given an award called the D.A.R., Daughter of the American Revolution. The girl chosen must have the following qualities—dependability, which includes truthfulness, honesty and punctuality; service, which includes cooperation, helpfulness, and responsibility; leadership, designated by personality, self-control, and initiative; and patriotism, characterized by an unselfish loyalty to American ideals.

Peggy Scott was the girl chosen from the senior class this year to become the D.A.R. representative.

MAMA'S BABY BOY was presented by the Junior Class under the direction of Miss Darrough on the evening of November 7. The play was a three-act farce in which a very attractive widow, Mrs. Shepherd McLean, who is nearly forty years of age, had her eighteen year old son dress and pose as a boy of fourteen, so that she might pass as a younger woman and marry the widower, Luther Long, whom she believes to be very wealthy. In turn, the widower, trying to appear younger, had his seventeen year old daughter pose as a girl of thirteen, so that he might marry the widow whom he believed to be wealthy also. It so happens that neither has any money, because they have lost it in the stock market.

The children prove to be a menace to the marriage, but, at the same time are the means of bringing the widow and widower together. They in turn regain their fortunes through the stock market and the sale of a worthless rock pile.

Real comedy is added to the play when grandma, the colored maid, and the cousins decide to become youthful also. The widower's sister, Mrs. Anglin, is completely bewildered at all times, for she cannot understand the great urge on the part of all to imitate Ponce De Leon.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Always in Trouble"

by

WALTER BEN HARE

ALWAYS IN TROUBLE; or a HOODOOED COON was a lively farce full of laugh-provoking situations and witticisms. It was presented on May 3 by the senior class under the direction of Miss Darrough.

Gideon Blair, aged ninety-three, and a multi-millionaire, had determined to marry his grandchild, Rosebud, to the son of his old friend. If either of the young people refused to marry the other, the one refusing lost a million dollars.

Tom, who had never seen Rosebud, mistook an old maid for the heiress and hired Tutt to impersonate himself, thinking that the heiress would refuse to marry him. Rosebud tried to persuade Tutt not to marry her by feigning insanity, but when she learned that Tutt was merely masquerading as Tom, she nearly scarced the life out of him.

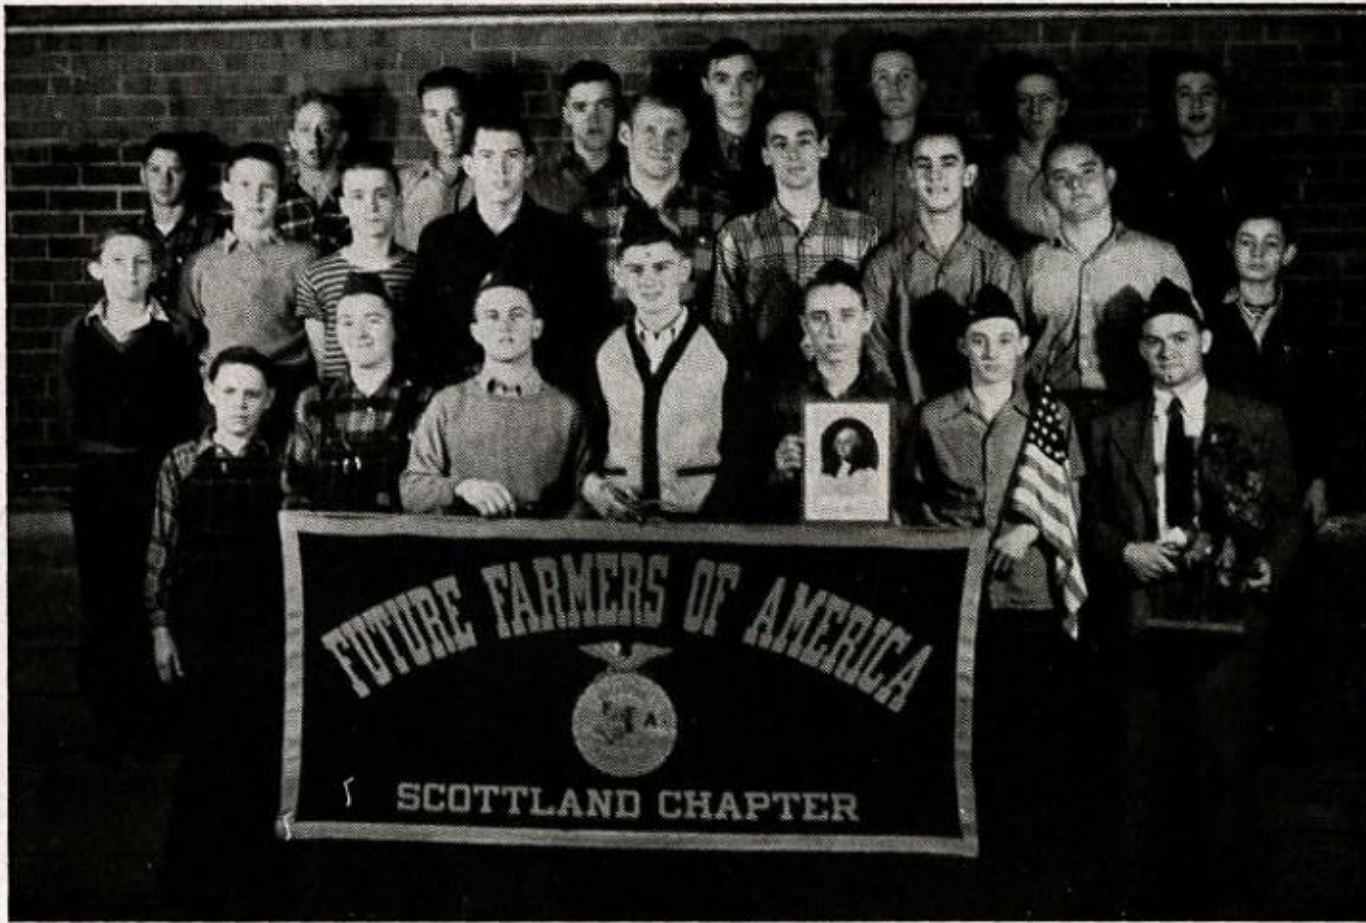

The comedy scenes were furnished by Misery Moon, a hoodooed colored boy, always in trouble; Lulu Pearl, whose every move and speech was ragtime; Paula Maleek who was after Tutt with a dynamite bomb; Samantha, the funny old maid; and Patrick, the bewildered ticket seller.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Misery Moon.....	a hoodooed Coon.....	George Dunn
Gideon Blair.....	a millionaire.....	Raymond Holler
Tom Rissell.....	as slick as a whistle.....	Robert Hess
Hiram Tutt.....	an awful nut.....	Donald Huffaker
Patrick Keller.....	a ticket seller.....	Noel Pritchett
Samantha Slade.....	a poor old maid.....	Irma Ingram
Rosebud Reese.....	her charming niece.....	Wanda Hensley
Paula Maleek.....	a Bolshevick.....	Peggy Scott
Lulu Pearl.....	a ragtime girl.....	Ida Lee Hugg

Other characters were featured by Raymond Craig, William Samford, Willard Wimsett, Josie Samford, and Edna Samford.

Future Farmers of America

FIRST Row—Hobart Dixon, Dale Romoser, George Dunn, William Samford, Richard Ingram, Richard Haws, and Mr. Emmons.

SECOND Row—Ray Ingram, Billie Vandivier, Benford Travis, Robert Hess, Raymond Holler, Donald Huffaker, Noel Pritchett, Patrick Dillon, and Billie Craven.

THIRD Row—Dean Bowman, Harold Porter, Floyd Hess, Eugene York, Warren Hutson, Charles Eslinger, Charles Ingram, and Floyd Newton.

The F.F.A. Chapter is one of many organizations which is interested in the future of farming and rural leadership in America.

Our chapter has a program of work which is the basis of all vocational organizations providing vocational training. In our chapter we are very much interested in scholarship, citizenship, community service, cooperation, thrift, leadership, recreation, and the establishment of farming. All of these form the basis of our program of work.

Many of the members have received their respective degrees—"Green Hand," "Chapter Farmer," "State Farmer," and the "American Farmer Degree"—for active membership.

This chapter is very much interested in the work of our school, so it is always ready to help in every way possible to make a better school and thus a more progressive community.

Mr. Emmons directs the activities of our "future farmers."

Future Homemakers of America

FIRST ROW—Wanda Hensley, Joan Listner, Mary Dillon, Ruth Scott, Iris Craig, Joan Eveland, Louise Carpenter, Norma Samford, and Irma Ingram.

THIRD ROW—Miss Throckmartin, instructor; Ida Lee Hugg, Marilyn Parker, Gleethal Scott, Leila Conner, Helen Holley, Marian Parker, Delores Hunt, and Florence Cook.

Not pictured: Sylvia Dugan, Naomi Fulton, Arlene Samford.

This year the F.H.A. Chapter enrollment has been open to all girls who are interested in home-making activities and have had one year or more in a Home Economics class. In it we have twenty-six old members and three new members.

The following officers were selected for the year:

President.....	Peggy Scott
Vice President.....	Helen Holley
Secretary.....	Irma Ingram
Treasurer.....	Gleethal Scott

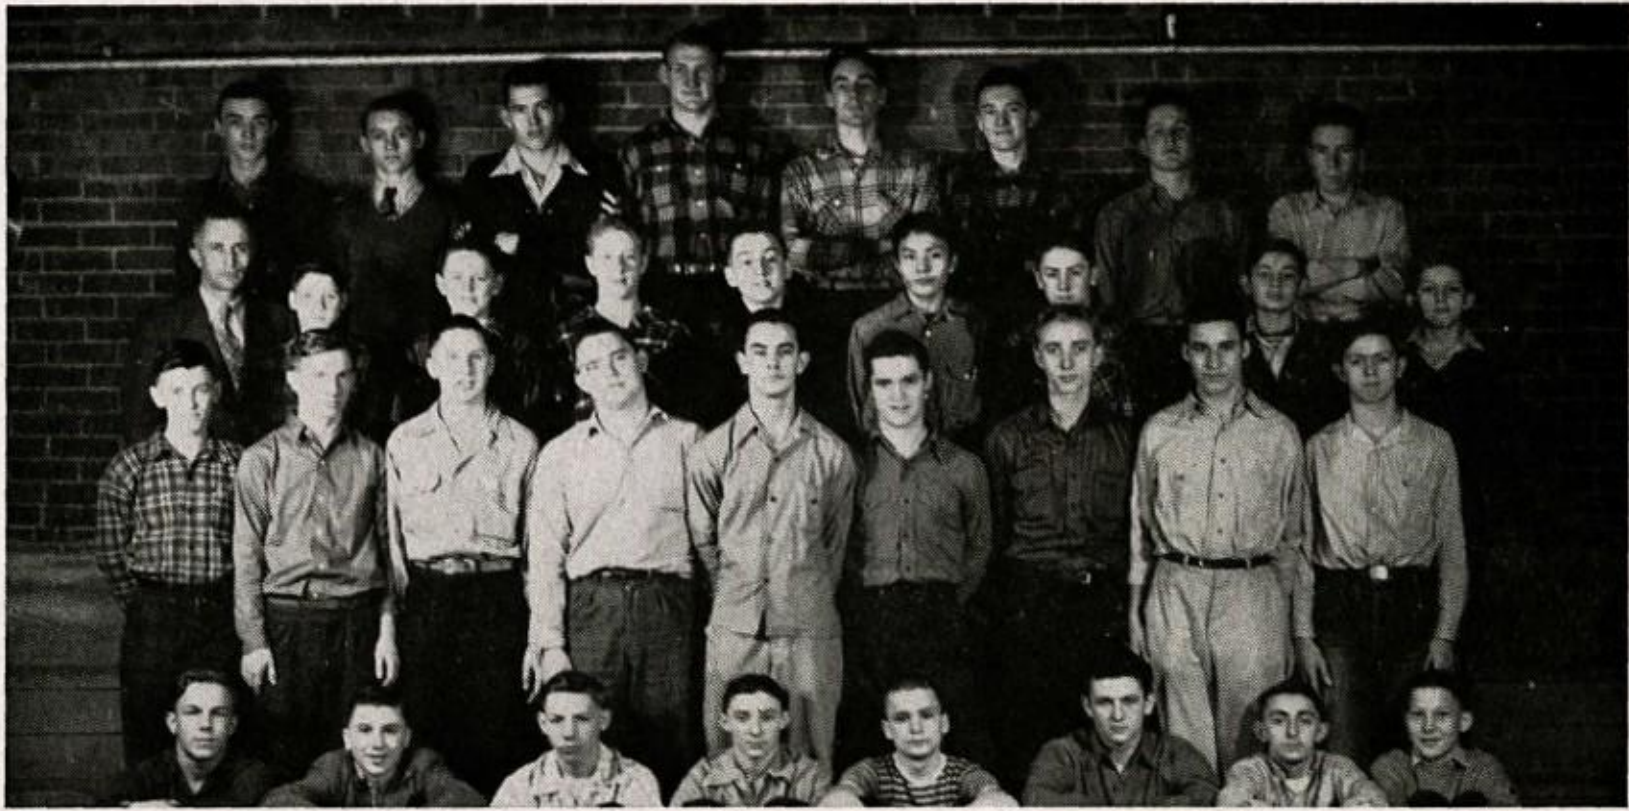

A regular meeting of the F.F.A. is held each month with the boys of the F.F.A. organization, at which time a business meeting is held in each group, followed by social entertainment for the combined group.

The F.H.A. has a planned program of activity. It is as follows:

September.....	Organization
October.....	Planned party
November.....	F.H.A. pins
December.....	Christmas
January.....	Community Life
February.....	Consumer Buying
March.....	Sawdust Nache
April.....	Textile Painting
May.....	Vegetable cooking

Our group is now affiliated with the state chapter of Future Home Makers of America; it is supervised by Miss Throckmartin, the instructor in Home Economics.

School Busses

In 1938 Scotland Community High School purchased a bus to transport the students to and from school. Today we have two busses operating in this district. One is a 1939 Ford, and the other is a 1946 International. The International was purchased this year. The bus drivers are Harry Williams and Roscoe Hugg.

The school busses have greatly reduced the cost and have afforded an adequate means of transportation for the pupils of the school. They cover approximately one hundred fifteen miles per day on a regular route and transport nearly sixty students.

We are very proud of our bus system.

Basketball

1945-46 Lettermen

DALE ROMOSER—sophomore, forward, second letter. Dale played guard last year but developed into an excellent forward this year. He was the hardest driving player on the team. During the Westfield game, Dale pulled some ligaments in his ankle and was unable to play any more.

DAVID RICHISON—freshman, forward, first letter. Although Davy is a freshman, he has strengthened the team a great deal. He is a good defensive player and shows plenty of fight.

RAYMOND HOLLER—senior, center, fourth letter. Raymond, the big boy of the team, has also made the biggest share of the points. He is an excellent rebounder and is able to play over most opponents' heads.

During the Sidell District Tourney, Holler broke two scoring records for the District. The first was for making the most points in any one game. In breaking this record he scored 35 points against Metcalf. The second was the scoring record established by Sidell's Clyde Sawyer in 1927. The old record for three games was 58 points; Holler scored 66.

DONALD C. HUFFAKER—senior, guard, third letter. Although Huffy doesn't score many points, he makes up for it as a guard. He is a good ball handler and along at the last of the season started hitting a good deal better.

ROBERT HESS—senior, guard, fourth letter. Although this was Bob's first year as guard, he came through grand. Hess has added a lot to our scoring power and is also an excellent defensive player.

GEORGE DUNN—senior, guard, first letter. George was a very fast player, so fast that he seemed to have some trouble in keeping the ball up with him. George was very valuable on the team whenever we got in a tight place. He was always trying and worked hard at basketball; he just seemed to keep us going.

NOEL PRITCHETT—senior, forward, second letter. Noel was handicapped with a bad leg this year. He was a good shot and a fair defensive man. He was a very smart ball player in that he always knew what to do and when to do it.

NEIL SCOTT—sophomore, forward, first letter. Neil's size handicapped him a little this year, but he made up for it in speed. He was a good shot and a fair guard, therefore, he was a very valuable substitute.

JAMES SCOTT—sophomore, forward, first letter. Jim's size has handicapped him this year also. He is a very good ball handler and a good shot.

RICHARD INGRAM—junior, center, first letter. Dick has helped our team a great deal this year. He is a good rebounder and an excellent guard. Another year will probably show much improvement in him.

RICHARD HAWS—When Dale Romoser hurt his ankle, an excellent substitute was immediately found; this was Richard Haws. Although he didn't receive a letter this year, he has shown a real fighting spirit.

This year's team is the first Edgar County team in history to play in the finals at the Sidell District Tourney. We are very proud of our boys.

Softball

FIRST ROW—Neil Scott, Patrick Dillon, Noel Pritchett, Robert Hess, Raymond Holler, Dale Romoser, Donald Huffaker, and David Richison.

SECOND ROW—Charles Ingram, Richard Ingram, Eugene York, George Dunn, Richard Haws, James Scott, Billie Craven, and Mr. Benson, coach.

Softball was reorganized again in the fall under the direction of the Physical Education instructor, Gerald Benson. The team played three games thus far this year. The F.F.A. softball team played Villa Grove at Scotland on October 23. They defeated Villa Grove 3-1. The regular high school softball team played two games with Metcalf. They were victorious in both games. The score of the game played at Metcalf was 9-5; the score of the game played here was 14-1.

Other games will be scheduled later on to be played near the end of the school year.

Track

After the basketball season is ended, many of our boys will go out for track. As yet the track team for this year has not been organized.

It is hoped that many of our boys will enroll in this very healthful sport.

The activity will be directed by Mr. Benson.

JOKES

True Enough

Mrs. McCool: "Give me a sentence with the word amphibious."

Hobart: "Mos' fish stories am fibious."

The Point of View

A distinguished doctor was ordering an overcoat lined with raccoon fur. His tailor shook his head doubtfully. "If you want this coat warm, Doctor, you'd better let me put the fur outside."

"My experience has convinced me that fur is warmer when worn inside of the garment. I never could understand why the raccoon doesn't wear his fur that way."

"But you would know, if you wuz a coon."

"How's that?"

"Cause, if you wuz a coon, you'd have better sense!"

Or Her So-To-Speak

Jim asked his mother, "Can you tell me of my Sis's whereabouts?"

His mother hesitated and blushed. "To tell you the truth, I really believe they're in the wash."

Confused

Miss Darrough: "Hey! You can't go in there—that's the principal's office!"

Leo: "Then what have they got 'Private' over the entrance for?"

Home Ec. Student (finding wasps in soup): "What's this?"

Miss Throckmartin: "Vitamin Bee."

Davey: "Say, whatever became of those old-fashioned gals who fainted when a boy kissed them?"

Joan: "Huh! Whatever became of the old-fashioned boys who made them faint?"

Mrs. McCool: "What is a female shopper?"

Neil: "A female shopper is a woman who can hurry through a department store aisle eighteen inches wide without brushing against the piled-up glassware and then drive home and knock the doors off a twelve-foot garage."

"How's Hobart getting along at school, Frank?"

"Not so well, Lena; they're learning him to spell 'tators with a p."

"H" to "O"

Mr. Benson: "Donald, give the formula for water."

Huffy: "Yes, sir. HIJKLMNO."

Mr. Benson: "Whatever are you driving at? Do you think you're in the kindergarten?"

Huffy: "No sir. You said yesterday it was H to O."

Wilma: "Now Billy, what letter in the alphabet comes before 'j'?"

Billy: "I dunno."

Wilma: "What have I on both sides of my nose?"

Billy: "Freckles."

JOKES

Mother (on train): "Irma, if you are not a good girl, I shall spank you."

Irma: "You spank me, and I'll tell the conductor my real age."

Cop: "Have you a warning signal on the front of your car?"

Hess: "Yes, sir, I have a little sign that says 'Dodge Brothers'."

Julia: "Scientists have proved that a woman's mind is cleaner than a man's."

Buster: "It should be. She changes it oftener."

Craig: "Willie, how come people part their hair?"

Willy: "To look neat, I suppose."

Craig: "Nope, it's not that. The reason is, every block needs an alley."

Charles E.: "Did you shave this morning, York?"

York: "Yes."

Charles E.: "Well next time stand a little closer to the razor."

George: "Do you shrink from kissing?"

Mary E.: "Oh my, no; why if I did, I'd be nothing but skin and bone."

Bill H.: "What always comes in pairs?"

Buster: "Scissors!"

Bill H.: "No; pear seeds."

Doctor: "Just do as I say and you'll be another man."

Billy Craven: "Okay, and Doctor, don't forget to send your bill to the other man."

Dick Haws: "How high is my temperature, doctor?"

Doctor: "A hundred and one."

Haws: "What's the world's record?"

Doctor: "You have a fever of 103."

Dick Ingram: "When it gets to 195, I'll sell."

Pritchett: "Let's play house."

Iris: "Okay—you be the door, and I'll slam you."

Frosty: "Do you care for dancing, Peggy?"

Peggy: "No."

Frosty: "Why not?"

Peggy: "It's merely hugging set to music."

Frosty: "Well, what is there about it that you don't like?"

Peggy: "The music."

Hess: "Look at that sign."

Huffaker: "Whazzit shay?"

Hess: "Says ladies ready to wear clothes."

Huffaker: "Well, ish darn near time ain't it?"

BASKETBALL TEAM

Grade School History

BASKETBALL

The Grade School basketball team did not enjoy a very successful season this year. The team played only two games, both of which were lost. The first game was played at Hume and was won by Hume by the score of 31 to 18. The second game was played at Scotland with the Isabel Grades. Isabel won by a score of 21 to 16. The squad was small and undersized and was handicapped throughout the season on account of sickness. Sickness forced the cancellation of game with Chrisman, Hume, Redmon, and Kansas.

The cheer leaders elected by the entire grade school were: Virginia Scott, June Romoser, Nancy Bonwell, Martha Lou Scott, and June Ingram.

OPERETTA

The big event of the year was the Grade School operetta which was given on Monday evening, Jan. 21st. The entire grade school participated. It was directed by Mrs. Yelton, the music teacher. It was a two-act production, the scenes of which were laid in a hayloft, where the children put on a circus.

The operetta was well-attended. The receipts from the production were used to purchase additional musical instruments for the Grade School Band.

SOCIAL EVENTS

This year has not marked an especially important season for social activities. The Upper Grades and the Intermediate Grades held a Halloween party. Contests and games were played, and refreshments were served.

Both the Intermediate and Primary Rooms held valentine parties. On several occasions the mothers of the pupils in the primary room were invited in for the parties that were held in the afternoon.
